Notice. - District of Columbia Advertisements to be inserted in the Baltimore Sun are received at and forwarded from THE STAR office.

DR. Scudder last night delivered his concluding lecture upon India. He maintained that the sway of the East India Company in India had been in the main for the good of that country; had given it law and protection for life and property; had suppressed piracy, robbery. Thug-ism, Suttee-ism, infanticide and the terrible sacrifice to the car of Juggernaut; had established hospitals, asylums and schools; and had finally, though with considerable reluctance, lifted its broad shield over the missionaries.

The evils of its administration were that it had deput'zed power to native harpies, who had miserably abused it; that it had to fill its coffers pandered to Hindooism and Mahomedanism; had paid homage to idolatry, and even ordered the firing of salutes in honor of Hindoo gods.

Dr S. gave a graphic history of the contests for supremacy between the British and the natives; and, by the gusto with which he entered upon the narrative of brave deeds performed by heroic Europeans, showed that he was not of the non-resistant school of theologians, but could hande a musket himself upon a pinch. He averred that the late rebellion in India was not a popular uprising of the people at large, but was a political movement of the Mahommedans, of whom there are 30,000 000 in India, all inspired with the deadliest hatred towards Christians, and the British especially. They managed to seduce the Bengal army, persuading the Hindoo portion of it that the British intended to break down caste. The direct occasion for the outbreak the lecturer attributed to a want of discipline in the Bengal army, to the native distrust of the East India Company; and to the absence of British troops from the country at that juncture. He expressed his belief that the accounts of atrocities committed by the Indians were in the main correct; and in conclusion urged that England must Christianize India, as the only way by which she can maintain her supremacy there.

PRESENTATION .- THE NIGHT SCHOOLS .- About eight o'clock last night, the pupils of the night school of the First District met at their school room, and, accompanied by their teacher, Mr. S. Jno. Thomson, proceeded in a body to the restdence of Grafton Powell, Esq , Councilman for the Second Ward, and presented him with a beautiful silver goblet, as a token of their appreciation of his efforts in inaugurating the night schools in this city.

The cup bore the following inscription: "To Grafton Powell, Esq , by the Pupils of the First District: A token of gratification for his successful efforts to establish apprentices' night schools. Washington. February, 1860.

Dr. Ironside did the speech-making on the part of the pupils, and Mr. P. made a handsome reply; after which the party partook of a collation, which was improvised during the presentation ceremonies, under the direction of Mrs. P. A pleasant hour was thus passed, and, with mutual expressions of good will and esteem, the pupils too their leave.

The experiment of the night schools in this city has been moderately successful, and it is believed that were they established permanently during the winter months of each year their usefulness would be material. It is suggested that they should be opened about the first of October, before the cold nights begin to prevail, and before the apprentice boys and others designed to be beneffted by them have time to hunt up and establish their winter loafing places; for when they once become habituated to these resorts it is useless to try to get them to the school-house. The average attendance upon the night school conducted by Mr. Thomson during the three months it has been in operation has been about equal to that upon the day schools.

THE DISTRICT IN CONGRESS -In the Senate. vesterday, the Chair laid before the body a joint resolution of the Board of Aldermen and Board of Common Council of the Corporation of Georgetown. D. C., in regard to the bill now pending in the Senate to prohibit all corporations of the District of Columbia from issuing notes or bills of any kind for circulation after the ist day of April next; which was read. It says of the bill "that it would restrict our resources, cramp industry, depreciate the value of property, and materially decrease our population. Mr. Brown offered a resolution that a committee of three be appointed on the part of the Senate, to a t in concert with such committee as may be appointed on the part of the House of Representatives, to make suitable arrangements for the inauguration of the equestrian statue of Gen Washington on the 22d February. Laid over.

FREE .- Yesterday, the facts in the case of John Haynes proved to be favorable to the discharge of the prisoner, and he was released. John is about 37 years of age, was a slave for a term of years to Mr. W. J. Ware, of Prince William county, Va. He came to this city, and worked in the Navy Yard. The remarkable scar was caused by a chisel flying from the handle in the smith shop there, while he was at work. The reason of his arrest was a statement, made by another colored person, that he married in a colored family named Peake-which was not the fact-that family being the one in which the fugitive was married. The papers were all properly attested by the Court in Virginia, and also by Col. Wm. W. Seaton, who was Mayor of Washington at the time.

THE THEATRE. - The performance at the Theatre last night, was particularly well carried through by all concerned. Miss Mitchell was charming as usual in her varied round of characters, while Glenn, Kemble, the Hills, and the Daltons vied with each other in admirably sustaining their fair star sister, and rendering the performance acceptable to the public. The Irish Jig by Miss Maggle Mitchell and S. W. Glenn, as ever, brought down the house. To-night Miss Mitchell takes her farewell benefit in the following bill, in which she appears in seven different characters: Madam Celeste's great drama of "Green Bushes, or a Hundred Year Ago;" and the "Ladies' Stratagem." Miss Jennie Parker is announced for Friday night.

BRIGHAM YOUNG AT HOME -We have before us some admirable specimens of the photographic art in the shape of scenes in Salt Lake City, so perfect in execution as to set the spectators, as it were, directly down before the objects presented. Thus we have Brigham Young's residence with all its surroundings, down to the minutest details of the materials of the buildings and walks; ditto of the Council House and General Tithing Store, the latter including a fine view of the eastern portion of Great Salt Lake City. These views, taken by D. A. Burr, Esq , may be seen with others of the set at the Whitehurst Gallery, together with a great variety of interesting photographs which are on exhibition there.

ART EXHIBITION .- A number of additional pic tures were received yesterday, and are already on the walls. Among them are some of the best productions there. We noticed three by Huntington, which alone are worth a visit to the gallery. We understand the last work by Luetze, which is said to be his masterpiece, and created a great sensation in New York, will be added to the exhibition to-day. This picture was painted for Geo. W. Riggs, Esq, who, with a liberality characteristic of the man, has granted the use of it to the Association during the exhibition.

LOOKOUT for the ball of the National Blues on the 22d inst. This fine new company, composed of citizens of the highest character, promises to be a credit to the city. They intend. we hear, to do things up most handsomely at the coming ball, and from the fact that Capt. Watt leads off in the affir we rather guess they will succeed. They have hit on exactly the right time, too, for holding it, as everybody will want just such an opportunity to vent their patriotism.

brought before the body. Delegates are present from nearly every State and Territory in the Union. The sess ons will occupy about a week, it is supposed, before the business to be transacted can be completed. The proceedings are strictly private. Superceding -Our city Justices are somewhat taken aback by the decision of the Circuit Court CENTRE MARKET .- The market this morning as not very lively; the attendance of sellers being much less than the average, and puschasers were slow in getting to the market place. The supply, though not heavy, was of good quality and sufficient for the demand. GEORGETOWN.

Correspondence of The Star.

GEORGETOWN, February 16, 1860. Early yesterday morning, a young man living on the road near the Little Falls bridge, discovered that some one during the night had robbed him of all his poultry except two or three superannuated specimens too old to lay and too tough to eat. Seeing departing footprints in the light snow which had fallen during the night, himself and a neighbor started in pursuit, and near town overhauled the thief, pipe in mouth, and bag on back, literally making tracks. In the bag were found over twenty decapitated chickens, mostly laying hens. The lover of poultry, proof being strong, was consigned to quarters in your city. where he will probably have to content himself with a bill of fare minus "chicking." We learn from builders that many improvements are contemplated by our citizens during the ensuing season, and that several fine dwellings will be erected upon the Heights, amongst which the most prominent will be a magnificent residence for Senator Bright, on the beautiful and commanding site purchased by him a year or two

Nearly all of our business men have agreed to close their stores on the 22d inst., and the day will be a general holiday. A respected and aged resident of our city, Capt. Jonathan Cathrell, died yesterday after a protracted illness. He was a member of the Masonic order. Our Bridge street friend. Crandell, has sent us a package of his magnetic pens, and after a trial, we will state that he has, in our opinion, succeeded in what many have failed in, that is, in imitating the elasticity, smoothness, and softness of the quill Those who have much writing to do, will do well to give him a call.
